VOLUME CVII.--NO. 139. ALEXANDRIA, VA., SATURDAY EVENING, JUNE 9, 1906. PRICE 2 CENTS.

Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription,

Is not a secret or patent medicine, against which the most intelligent people are quite naturally averse because of the uncertainty as to their harmless character, but is a medicine OF KNOWN COMPOSITION, a full list of all its ingredients being printed, in plain English, on every bottle wrapper. An examination of this list of ingredients will disclose the fact that it is non-alcoholic in its composition, chemically pure glycerine taking the place of the commonly used alcohol, in its make-up. The "Favorite Prescription" of Dr. Pierce is in fact the only medicine put up for the cure of woman's peculiar weaknesses and ailments, sold through druggists, that does not contain alcohol and that too in large quantities. Furthermore, it is the only medicine for woman's special diseases, the ingredients of which have the unanimous endorsement of all the leading medical writers and teachers of all the several schools of practice, and that too as remedies for the ailments for which "Favorite Prescription" is recommended.

A little book of some of these endorsements will be sent to any address, postpaid, and absolutely free if you request same by postal card or letter, of Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

Don't forget that Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, for woman's weaknesses and delicate ailments, is not a patent or secret medicine, being the "Favorite Prescription" of a regularly educated and graduated physician, engaged in the practice of his chosen specialty—that of diseases of women—that its ingredients are printed in plain English on every bottle-wrapper; that it is the only medicine especially designed for the cure of woman's diseases that contains no alcohol, and the only one that has a professional endorsement worth more than all the so-called "testimonials" ever published for other medicines. Send for these endorsements as above. They are free for the asking.

If you suffer from periodical headache, backache, dizziness, pain or dragging down sensation low down in the abdomen, weak back, have disagreeable and weakening, catarrhal, pelvic drain, or are in distress from being long on your feet, then you may be sure of benefit from taking Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription.

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets the best laxative and regulator of the bowels. They invigorate stomach, liver and bowels. One a laxative: two or three a cathartic.

WASHING WITHOUT WATER

Is Like Trying to Get Rid of Dandruff Without Herpicide.

Did you ever see any one trying to wash themselves without soap or water?

If you did what would you say of him?

It is every bit as foolish to try to get rid of Dandruff and to prevent Baldness by feeding the germs which cause it, with Canthrarides, Vaseline, Glycerine and similar substances which form the principal ingredients of most so-called Hair Vigors.

Newbro's Herpicide is successful because it attacks and kills the parasitic germ which feeds on the hair roots.

It is the original and only genuine scalp germicide manufactured.

Stuck in Mud and Drowned.

Held fast in the mud, the water rising about him inch by inch, telling of death in store for him, Michael McDonald, a young ship carpenter, was drowned in the Elizabeth river, at Elizabeth, N. J., yesterday.

Even as the water rose above his chin he was seen by some men in a rowboat, who had heard his despairing cries, and though they bent to their oars in mad effort to reach the side of the drowning man, they were a moment too late.

Swiftly and surely the tide rose. The unfortunate man cried aloud for help. Those in the boat did all that was possible, but they were yet a hundred yards when the waves closed above the head and his cry was lost. A few bubbles only showed where the tragedy had been enacted.

McDonald was walking across the Long Branch Railroad bridge over the Elizabeth river Thursday evening, and must have fallen into the river. The bridge is little used by pedestrians, and the place where he fell is almost obscured by the bulkhead. As he stood waiting for death several trains passed over the bridge, but no one saw him, and his death would have remained a mystery had not two men in the rowboat seen his head above the water.

In falling McDonald must have landed on his head. He was covered with mud. He managed to extricate himself, however, and get his head above the water, for the tide was out, or he would have been immediately drowned. He made frantic efforts to reach the shore, but at each step he sank deeper into the mire, until the clinging muck gripped him to the waist. Then, exhausted, with death swiftly and surely drawing upon him, he stood, unable further to aid himself. Through the dusk he saw a rowboat, and his screams reached the ears of those who were in it. They saw the speck upon the water which told them of a drowning man, and did all they might, but in vain. The tide was running swiftly against them, and they lost the race with death. When they dragged McDonald from the mud and secured a physician he was dead. As the body was being carried into the house a stranger approached and asked who was dead. When he was told that it was Mitchel McDonald the stranger fainted, and the unconscious man was carried with the body into the house

He proved to be William McDonald, a brother of the dead man, a sailor, who had been thought lost at sea three years before, but who had returned to visit his brother and the home of his childhood.

Another Mysterious Murder.

In the murder of Mrs. Alice Kinnan, a widow, forty years old, at her home in New York Thursday night, the police have a mystery that promises to be a hard one to solve. Mrs. Kinnan, who had been a widow for four years, and had no children, was reading in the library of her home, on Washington avenue, shortly after 9 o'clock, when the doorbell on the front door rang. With Mrs. Kinnan at the time was her mother, Mrs. Louis M. Stanton, who is nearly ninety years old. Mrs. Kinnan opened the door. Her mother remained in the library, and says that she heard a man's voice say: "Good evening, madam." At the same time, so the aged woman says, she heard her daughter ask: "Well, what do you want?" Mrs. Stanton heard nothing further in the way of words, but says she heard a sound like that of a body falling. The old woman called out to her daughter, asking her what was the trouble. Getting no reply she hobbled as best she could to the front door. Stretched out on the front veranda was the body of Mrs. Kinnan and blood was flowing from an ugly wound on her head. An alarm was given and Mrs. Kinnan was removed to a hospital where she died. The doctors said that the woman's skull had been frightfully crushed with some sort of blunt instrument, such as an iron bar or similar weapon. The police are at a loss for any clew that would lead them on the trail of the murderer. The house where the murder was committed is known as the Stanton mansion and is one of the oldest in the Bronx. According to the neighbors, Mrs. Stanton is quite wealthy.

The presence of Dr. S. Weir Mitchell, physician and author, of Philadelphia, in the section on nervous and mental diseases at the American Medical Association convention in Boston Wednesday attracted many doctors. He described how a woman was nourished for four years through a stomach tube, how she lost flesh at first, but finally commenced to gain. He said the patient was seized with sudden inflammation of the throat, and in a few hours lost power to swallow. He described her loss of thirty-six pounds in weight during two years while being fed on liquid food. She could not even swallow saliva, which Dr. Mitchell pointed out, is supposed to be so necessary to digestion, yet her digestion was perfect. A hard tumor was finally found far down in her throat.

Weird Feast.

Julius Brown, the eccentric son of the war governor of Georgia, gave a dinner at Atlanta last night on the occasion of his fifty-eighth birthday, which was remarkable for its somberness. There were twelve persons present, one of whom was Gov. Terrill. On the table was a black velvet cloth. At each cover was placed one of the black dinner cards, together with the figure of a Gibson girl on another card.

A skull was also by the side of each plate, while suspended from the center of the chandelier was another huge skull of ashy white, under which, on a black pedestal, sat the figure of a monk, draped in black.

Candles were at each plate, and there was a candle for every course of the dinner. At the end of each course a candle was snuffed out, this being continued through the dinner until there were no lights left on the table, though those in the corner of the room were still burning.

Denounces Football.

President Chamberlin, of McKendree College, in his annual report to the board of trustees at Lebanon, Ill., Wednesday, entered into a vigorous discussion of intercollegiate athletics, especially football, recommending the abolishment of the game. He declared many institutions of learning are schools of anarchy. "As for the college spirit," said President Chamberlin, "it must be admitted that the argument against such a cruel sport is well grounded if the chief object of the institution of learning is to promote so-called physical culture at the expense of human life and the broken bodies of contestants. It is this spirit which leads to hazing, breaking into property, keeping ferocious bulldogs, supporting automobiles and other like dissipations and modern fads in many of our institutions of learning. I do not wish to be understood as being opposed to athletics. Physical culture is important, and field sports on a home field are not to be discouraged."

A Miraculous Cure.

The following statement, by H. M. Adams and wife, Henrietta, Pa., will interest parents and others. "A miraculous cure has taken place in our home. Our child had eczema 5 years and was pronounced incurable, when we read about Electric Bitters, and concluded to try it. Before the second bottle was all taken we noticed a change for the better, and after taking 7 bottles he was completely cured." It's the up-to-date blood medicine and body building tonic. Extra Choice Head CAROLINA RICE Just received by J. C. MILBURN.

Alexandria Gazette
SIC SEMPER TYRANNIS
AND VIRGINIA ADVERTISER

SATURDAY EVENING, JUNE 9, 1906.

THE political aspect and possible consequences of the fight on the meat inspection bill is causing serious alarm to the administration and to republicans in Congress. So decided a stand has been taken by Speaker Cannon and his assistants in the management of the House against the character of legislation which the President and the people demand that the promised passage through the House of a bill drawn by the representatives of the meat packers and drawn in their interest will, in the opinion of many, afford the democrats a basis for attack on the administration which no argument and no achievements heretofore can withstand. In a spirited letter to Chairman Wadsworth, of the House committee on agriculture, President Roosevelt yesterday again urged the passage of an effective meat bill, and declared that the report of Commissioners Neill and Reynolds on the revolting conditions at Chicago was not too strong. In fact, the President says he has more startling evidence ready for the committee, if it should be needed. Friends of the packers in the House declare that President Roosevelt is trifling with a great industry. The President says the packers have been trifling with the health and lives of the American people. And it is not difficult to estimate how extreme will be public indignation if a republican House, resisting all the efforts of the President to obtain the passage of an effective law, enacts only such legislation as may be satisfactory to the packers. Upon the eve of a Congressional campaign the attitude of Speaker Cannon and the majority of the members of the committee on agriculture presents amenace to the republican party more serious than any that has confronted it in years, and affords much apprehension for the President and those who stand with him in the pending fight.

GOVERNOR WARFIELD has appointed William Pinkney Whyte, a noted lawyer and former Governor and United States Senator, to fill the vacancy in the United States Senate caused by the death of Arthur Pue Gorman. Mr. Whyte will serve until the Legislature meets, in January, 1908. At the State election next year a successor to Governor Warfield will be elected. Should he decide not to be a candidate for re-election and should he have a following in the new legislature, he may be able to assure his own election as Senator, to fill but the one year remaining of the Gorman term. Senator Whyte is 82 years old and his appointment to Gorman's seat is somewhat retributive, for Gorman, over a quarter of a century ago, defeated Whyte when the latter sought re-election as United States Senator. Mr. Whyte has been antagonistic to the regular organization for years. Governor Warfield's action in appointing Mr. Whyte will leave the field open for a free-for-all race for the senatorship next year, but at the same time the Governor has dealt the organization, which elected him, another blow. The Governor has opposed the organization almost ever since his election. He antagonized the negro disfranchising amendment last year and he refused to appoint Gorman men to office. In the appointment of Mr. Whyte, it is believed, he has had the counsel of the enemies of the regular organization.

THAT the Pennsylvania Railroad is largely interested in bituminous coal properties on its lines, holding coal lands in three counties through a subsidiary real estate company, was revealed yesterday by Max Riebenack, comptroller of the company, testifying under oath before the Interstate Commerce Commission. This information is in direct variance with the formal statement issued by the officers of the company last February 14, as a reply to sundry damaging charges made in a petition on behalf of Pennsylvania bituminous coal operators and which had been presented in Congress the day before.

THE President yesterday signed the denatured alcohol bill, and it is now a law. The act removes the tax of $2.08 a gallon from such grain alcohol as is intended for use in arts and manufactures, and is rendered unfit for drinking or medicinal purposes by the admixture of wood alcohol or other poisonous matter prescribed by the government. The removal of the tax reduces the price of alcohol for light and fuel to 20 cents a gallon, and will add millions of dollars to the earnings of the farmer, as alcohol can be made cheaply from many farm products.

THAT "open door" to the Orient which the republicans declared the possession of the Philippine Islands was certain to keep open, seems to be kept closed in spite of all the outlay of lives and treasure. The chief of the United States Statistical Bureau, says that we supply but one per cent. of the one billion dollars' worth of merchandise imported into the tropical regions and are making no gains How can we expect people to trade with us when we have raised a tariff wall to prevent our trading with them?

The Chinese embassy is informed that the first check drawn in Manila for the relief of the San Francisco earthquake sufferers was by the Chinese firm of hardware dealers, Mariano Uy Chaco Sons. It was sent to Collector of Customs W. Morgan Shuster, chairman of the Manila finance committee of relief. The Manila-American at that time commented editorially upon the contribution as follows: "It shows again the liberal nature of the Chinese in responding to calls for assistance in deserving cases, irrespective of nationality and at this time when the relations between China and the United States are a little bit strained, it should exert some influence in allaying such feelings as exist, at least here in Manila."

That the House will pass a very milk and watery beef inspection bill was the idea expressed by congressional callers at the White House today. The fact that the Senate did not deliberate very long over the Beveridge bill before tacking it upon the agricultural appropriation bill gives the packers' friends in the House an excuse for delay and a pretext for weakening the more drastic features of the measure. Mr. Overstreet, of Indiana, who is a bitter political enemy of Senator Beveridge, very plainly indicated his intention of preventing any paragraphs hurtful to the packers from becoming a part of the bill. "The House will undoubtedly pass an inspection bill," said Mr. Overstreet, "but I do not think that it will pass one that will injure a great industry by the enactment of unnecessary and drastic regulations. The Beveridge bill was not considered in the Senate before it was placed upon the agricultural bill. I think the House ought to deliberate over it before passing it along."

The need of more general inspection of meat and meat products and better sanitation in the packing houses was further discussed before the House committee on agriculture today. Upton Sinclair, author of "The Jungle," has wired, asking to be heard but the committee is disposed to get along without him. Representative Garner, of Texas, representing a stock raising community, asked that the committee do its work speedily, in order that the agitation may cease. His people want legislation, but they want it quickly. He thought that the cost of inspection should be borne by the government as otherwise it would surely fall upon the stock growers ultimately. Judge S. H. Cowan, of Fort Worth, Tex., attorney for the Texas cattle raisers, made an extensive argument. He too expressed the belief that if the cost of inspection is placed on the packers they will shunt it off on the raisers. He read a telegram from John T. Lytle, of Fort Worth, secretary of the Cattle Raisers' Association, saying that the present agitation had seriously affected the price of cattle and would depress the value from $4 to $5 a head. Other telegrams from Texas were to the same effect. Although objecting to saddling the inspection fees on the raisers he did not want that to stand in the way of legislation, said Judge Cowan. Discussing the Beveridge inspection amendment, Judge Cowan remarked: "This thing will never go into the courts most likely." He asked the committee to be careful with the wording of the law in order to avoid the troubles "a cranky inspector" could make when the law is obscure. He opposed any law preventing the use of preservatives in preparing meat for foodstuffs, except where they are harmful to the consumer, on the ground that it will place the America industry at a disadvantage in competing with Argentina and Australia. Texas furnishes half the "canners," he said, and with dated labels for canned stuff, competing with Argentine in this regards, will be less successful. Fred P. Johnson, Secretary of the Denver Live Stock Exchange, declaring that the stock men were facing a panic, asked the committee to immediately take action. "Every day's discussion means the loss of thousand of dollars to the stock raisers," he said.

"Good luck to you ladies," said President Roosevelt yesterday afternoon as he said good by to a delegation from the National League of Women's Organizations which called to hand him a set of resolutions denouncing Senator Smoot, of Utah. Mrs. Margaret Dye Ellis, supt. of legislation for the National W. C. T. U., presented the resolutions to the President and the delegation included several prominent women workers for social betterment of the race. When Mrs. Ellis handed the President the anti-Smoot resolutions he thanked her and then said how much pleased he was to meet all the ladies. But he omitted to say whether or not he was in favor of lopping off Senator Smoot's legislative head. Some of the ladies, after the reception, were inclined to be jubilant over the President's parting words. "He said good luck," exclaimed one of the delegates. "If he had not hoped that we would secure the horrid Mormon's expulsion from the Senate, he would not have said that." "But the President almost always says 'Good luck' when he says 'Good by'" exclaimed another one of the sisters in a dubious tone of voice.

Ex-Senator James K. Jones, of Arkansas, who conducted as chairman of the democratic national committee, both of the unsuccessful Bryan campaigns, predicted today on the steps of the White House, that the sage of Nebraska would be the next candidate of his party. "I believe that he will be elected if he runs," said Senator Jones. "He is the strongest man in his party today, the logical candidate for the honor, and I think he would accept the nomination if he were asked to make the race. I do not believe, however, that Mr. Bryan is seeking the romination. He would probably prefer to have some other man make the race—some other man who stands for the same principles as he does—but if nominated, I think he would sink his personal preferences for the good of the party. Two races for the presidency ought to be enough to satisfy most any man." As Senator Jones was leaving the White House, he turned around and said: I hope you boys will all come to Mr. Bryan's inauguration."

The cruiser Marblehead has sailed from the port of Panama City northward for Corinto, Nicaragua, to intercept a filibustering expedition which it is reported is being fitted out there on the steamship Empire for the purpose of making an attack on San Jose, Guatemala. The Empire is flying the American flag and the orders issued to the commanding officer of the Marblehead by the Navy Department is to prevent her departure from Corinto until he is absolutely satisfied of her neutral character and peaceful mission.

Representative Morrell of Pennsylvania called at the White House this morning to present a delegation from the Italian society of Philadelphia that desired to protest against the educational and other restrictive clauses in the immigration bill now pending in the House. The President received the delegation very cordially but did not commit himself upon the matter.

Fifty-ninth Congress.

Washington, June 9.

SENATE.

When the Senate met today it passed a joint resolution accepting the recession by the State of California, of the Yosemite Valley grant and the Mariposa Big Tree Grove.

The measure has already passed the House.

Mr. Kittredge made an unsuccessful effort to have Wednesday selected for making a vote on the level canal bill.

Mr. Millard interposed an objection. The South Dakota Senator, in charge of the bill, gave notice that beginning on Monday he would press the measure, and insist on discussion or final action.

HOUSE.

The Hanging of Battaile.

Gabriel Battaile, the sixteen-year-old negro, was yesterday morning hanged at King George Court House for assaulting Miss Lena Rogers, daughter of Rudolph Rogers, on the public road in King George county.

Battaile slept well Thursday night in the King George jail, where he was taken from Fredericksburg Thursday afternoon by the Washington Guards. He awoke at 4 o'clock, and ate a hearty breakfast, after which Sheriff Owens read the death warrant to him. He took no interest in the reading of the paper. His spiritual adviser spent a short time with him in prayer.

Shortly after 6 o'clock Battaile was taken from the jail by Sheriff Owens, with his two assistants and a detail of ten soldiers, and was marched to the gallows. The youth showed no emotion. When asked on the gallows if he had anything to say, he replied:

"Good by, all friends. I am going home to glory."

He showed no fear when the black cap was placed over his head and the noose adjusted. The drop was five feet, and his neck was broken by the fall. None of his relatives were present.

Only a small crowd of country people were attracted to the county seat.

Captain March Guilty.

Capt. William H. March, of Reidsville, Va., the first of the defendants to be placed on trial in the Federal Court in Norfolk in the Chesapeake and Potomac river alleged slavery cases, was found guilty by the trial jury yesterday upon the first count of the indictment, which charged him with imprisonment, assaulting and withholding food from J. W. Gallagher, a young Philadelphian. The defendant was found not guilty on the other two counts in the indictment. A motion for a new trial was made. The maximum punishment is five years in the penitentiary, at Atlanta, Ga., and a fine of $1,000.

For the lack of evidence the government entered a nolle prosequi in the case of Capt. William Justice, of the bay dredge Daniel, No. 9, charged with cruelty to, and withholding food from, Bela Feeley, an Austrian, who, upon escaping from the Daniel, filed a report with the Austrian consul general at New York, who caused a govermental investigation.

The case of Capt. George Doyster, indicted for alleged cruelties to Herman W. John on the dredge Upshur Q., went over by failure of the authorities to apprehend the accused.

There is yet a civil action pending against Marce, instituted by Gallagher, for $10,000 damages, growing out of his treatment on the boat.

Mr. Williams May Retire.

Hon. John Sharp Williams, minority leader in the House of Representatives and one of the most conspicuous figures in the democratic party today, may retire to private life.

Mr. Williams knows informally that he will be offered the chair of economics and political history at the University of Virginia. He has told some of his inmate friends that he will seriously entertain a proposition that enables him to retire from public life and enter upon a field that would be so congenial to him and where he could be useful to his fellowman.

At a meeting held some time ago, the board of visitors of the University of Virginia decided to establish this new professorship, and the names of several eminent public men were mentioned in connection with it. That of Mr. Williams naturally met with favor at the first suggestion.

The board of visitors of the University of Virginia will meet Thursday, June 14, to make a final decision and select the man for this professorship. The place pays $4,000 a year and a residence, but as Mr. Williams is a man of means the salary is not an inducement to him.

Disaffection among the Russian troops has again manifested itself. A regiment stationed at Okhta, a suburb in the Eastern part of the city, is practically in a state of mutiny. The regiment was given orders to proceed to the Baltic provinces, but the soldiers have refused to go.

Mr. I. D. Cardoza, of Richmond, formerly a very prominent retail merchant in that city, died this morning at 1:25 o'clock. He had been ill for about two weeks, but had been in poor health for some months. Mr. Cardoza has been identified with the retail dry goods business nearly all his life.

J. V. Bulheller, a machinist, employed in the Richmond Forging Company, while bathing off the point of Belle Isle shortly after noon yesterday, was swept away in the current and drowned. C. S. Fox, another swimmer, bravely struck out to succor his comrade. In turn, Fox was caught in the treacherous current, and it looked as though two lives would be lost instead of one. Henry C. Leigh, a splendid swimmer, jumped in and, after a hard struggle, succeeded in saving Fox.

The peace monument erected to the men who fell in the ranks of Grimes' Battery, of Portsmouth, and the survivors of the command, was unveiled in Portsmouth yesterday with imposing ceremonies. The unveiling was performed by Miss Annie Emerson, niece of Capt. Arthur Emerson, who commanded the battery when it repulsed the British naval force at Craney Island, in 1812, and Miss Palmetto Grimes, daughter of the gallant commander, killed during the civil war. Col. Wm. H. Stewart was orator of the occasion. The monument is the only one in the South bearing the intertwined banners of the union and the Confederacy.

Archer Steiner, registrar; Isaac Michael, judge, and Isadore Cohen, clerk, the primary election officers who conducted the voting at the First precinct of Jefferson ward, Richmond, in the recent municipal election, were indicted by the grand jury yesterday because of fraud in the election. The men are charged with practically every form of fraud possible in the polling booth. They were held for trial in bonds of $500 each. John A. Selph and Joseph Q. Phillips, defeated candidates for the council in Jefferson ward, contested the election before the city democratic executive committee, but the committee refused to take any action in the matter. They then laid their evidence before the Commonwealth's attorney.

Wanted to Oust Superintendent.

In the Eastern State Hospital investigation yesterday President Tyler, of William and Mary College; Rev. Mr. Goodwin, rector of Bruton Church, and Judge Taylor Garnett, a former member of the board, testified. All spoke highly of Dr. Foster, both as a man and as an officer of the asylum.

Judge Garnett had retired and the session was almost concluded when Colonel Lawless, counsel for Dr. Foster, sprung a sensation, proving by the three Spencer brothers, of Williamsburg, that E. H. Clowes, a former member of the board, had said he hated Dr. Foster and would see to it that he was made to "walk the plank" as superintendent; that when Clowes had secured his commission as director of the hospital or mentioned the matter again to Robert Lee Spencer, that in the summer of 1903, shortly after Dr. Foster had been re-elected superintendent, Clowes brought Dr. Henderson to Williamsburg and introduced him to J. B. O. Spencer as the next superintendent of the hospital. It was also proven that Cowles was once a republican.

This testimony was introduced to disprove the statement made on the stand by Cowles that pleasant relations existed between Dr. Foster and himself, and to show that it was Cowles' plan and intention to turn Dr Foster out and put in as superintendent a man of his own choice.

Judge Garnett said that Mr. Cowles and Mr. Cole had attempted to rob the superintendent of all his minor appointments, and that it was only on the matter being taken to the general board that they desisted. He spoke highly of the work of Dr. Foster and spoke highly of Dr. Williams.

Mr. Gorman's Successor.

Gov. Warfield, of Maryland, has appointed Hon. William Pinkney Whyte, the noted lawyer and former governor and United States Senator, to fill the vacancy caused by the death of Senator Gorman. Mr. Whyte will serve until the next legislature meets in January, 1908, when it will not only elect a successor to Mr. Gorman, but also a Senator to fill out his unexpired term until March, 1909, when the new Senator's term begins.

At the State election next year, a successor to Gov. Warfield will be elected. Should he decide not to be a candidate for re-election, and should he have a following in the new legislature, he may be able to assure his own election as Senator to fill out the one year remaining of the Gorman term.

Mr. Whyte is eighty-two years old. Senator Gorman, over a quarter of a century ago, defeated him for re-election as United States Senator and took his place. Mr. Whyte has been mayor of Baltimore, governor, and attorney-general. He has been antagonistic to the regular organization for years.

The governor in appointing him does so on the ground of his fitness to immediately take up the work in the Senate, and also as a tribute to the veteran democrat's lifetime devotion to the interests of the city of Baltimore and Maryland, thus enabling him to round out his notable political career in the Senate.

Action will be taken next week to fill the vacancies on committee occasioned by the death of Senator Gorman.

The Agrarian Trouble.

St. Petersburg June 9.—Discussion of the agrarian problem is now claiming the attention of the Douma, to the practical exclusion of all other subjects. Extreme pressure has been brought to bear on the labor deputies by their constitutents who have been flooding them with letters and telegrams demanding that they shall stand firm on the agrarian question. The peasant electors also insist that immediate attention shall be given to relieving their burdens. The effect of this agitation on the part of the big body of peasants has been to stir the labor deputies to unusual exertions to see that the Douma shall take some definite action to bring about reforms which will benefit the peasants. Every other subject has been side tracked to allow the debate on the agrarian troubles to proceed. The proposal was made today to limit the time of speakers in order to expedite the work of the douma, but it was rejected, and the discussion resumed at length.

It was agreed that the Neill-Reynolds report is practically worthless because the men who made it do not come within the accepted definition of experts.

Murder and Suicide.

New Martinsville, W. Va., June 9 — After cutting off the head of his mistress with a five-inch knife, Guiseppe Cernzi, attempted to kill himself in the same way yesterday in his cabin at Mount Carbon, four miles east of Montgomery, Fayette county. He failed owing to the quick arrival of Detective Hayne, who feared an attempt to lynch, and hurried him to the county seat at Fayetteville. Resignation of Ministry?

St. Petersburg, June 9.—It is reported that the ministry has resigned.

New York Stock Market.

New York, June 9.—The market ruled heavy from the start and for some reason a supply was continually pressed for sale at steady concessions in prices, all through the first hour. There was very little commission business and it was stated by traders, themselves, that these were all in the room, but this is hardly reasonable. The movement of prices in itself shows that liquidation from some source is in progress.

The Beef Question.

Death by Storm.

Rochester, N. Y., June 9.—The high wind that swept this city late last night was responsible for at least one death in Monroe county, and the death list may be increased. At 11 o'clock last night the house of Mrs. James Thurreson, in Brockport 20 miles west of this city, was blown from its foundation, and collapsed burying Mrs. Thurreson, Mrs. Loretta Clark, and a baby in the ruins. The wreckage caught fire from an overturned lamp. Mrs. Thuresson was so badly injured that she died shortly after midnight. Mrs. Clark escaped fatal hurts, but the baby was so seriously bruised and crushed, that its death is certain.

Dane and Ram in Mortal Combat.

A prize ram belonging to John W. Larrick, of Chambersville, Frederick county, Thursday, defended a flock of sheep, attacked by dogs, and lost his life after a desperate battle with a fierce great Dane. The ram and the dog fought for three-quarters of an hour, deep holes being torn in the sod where the encounter took place, but the superior size and strength of the dog proved too much for his weaker adversary, and the ram was finally killed. Four ewes were killed before the dogs were beaten off. After a chase of nearly five miles Mr. Larrick and his sons killed the dogs, six shots from a revolver being required to put an end to the Dane.

Mrs. Nannie Nuckals, who killed Mrs. Viana Black in the presence of 10,000 people on Berea College campus Wednesday, had her examining trial in Richmond, Ky., yesterday and was acquitted of the charge of murder. The evidence was of a character to show that Mrs. Black had interfered with the domestic happiness of the accused woman, and had gone so far as to threaten her life.

The Senate yesterday listened to two set speeches—one by Mr. Morgan, on the Isle of Pines question, and the other by Mr. Hopkins, in opposition to a sea-level canal. Consideration of the District appropriation bill also was begun. The House concluded one-third of the sundry civil appropriation bill. Messrs. Champ Clark and Fitzgerald followed Mr. Sullivan in attacking the policy of Secretary Metcalf in refusing to vigorously prosecute the Chinese exclusion law.

Pitcher was instantly killed by lightning at 6:30 o'clock Thursday morning while standing in the doorway of his home, on the farm of Dr. Philip Briscoe, near Parkers Wharf, on the Patuxent river Md. He was a son of Joseph Pitcher and was 24 years of age. He leaves a widow. The storm early Thursday morning was very severe at a number of points along the Patuxent river, considerable damage having been caused by wind and lightning.

The Bryan boom struck Chicago, yesterday. "Wm. Jennings Bryan for president in 1908" was the theme wherever democratic politicians gathered. Observers see the unfolding of an interesting political drama in the rise of Bryan and the decline of Hearst. Mr. Hearst is believed by the politicians to have been prepared to attack any formidable candidate whom the conservatives might have brought forward, but is at a loss to see his way clear to strike at Mr. Bryan, whom he has supported in two campaigns.

Chief Justice Charles B. Lore, of the Delaware Supreme Court, a local preacher in the Methodist Church and one of its most prominent laymen, yesterday made a public statement in which he dissagrees with the clergymen who are trying to prevent the running of Sunday trains on the Delaware Railroad and its eastern Shore branches. The chief Justice regards Sunday trains as a necessary of modern times, and believes the Lord provides them for public use and benefit. He also remarked that he did not think the old "blue laws" could be enforced to stop the trains.

Because his wife, Margaret Eschboch, had declined to admit him to her home, at Fort Schuyler, on Long Island Sound, Edmund Eschboch yesterday shot and fatally wounded her and fired several wild shots at her daughter, Mrs Lena Kern. Both Eschboch and his wife are 60 years old. Mrs Eschboch owns the farm on which they lived, and a year ago ordered him to leave it, which he did. Yesterday he went to the farm, demanding to be allowed to return, and began shooting. Eschboch fought off three laborers who tried to stop him and threatened the police who arrested him where he was hiding in a barn. He also tried to cut his throat.

Yesterday evening John Runyon, who was under the influence of liquor, was flourishing and shooting off his revolver at Dingess Run, two and a half miles south of Logan. William Cook, of Wyoming county, W. Va., a constable, who was present, attempted to take the weapon from Runyon, when the latter shot Cook through the heart, killing him instantly. Will Dingess, who was assisting Mr. Cook in an attempt to disarm Runyon, was also fired upon by the latter, the bullet missing the mark, whereupon Dingess emptied his revolver in Runyon, shooting him seven times, each ball passing through the latter's body. Runyon lived but 10 minutes after being shot.

The State capitol building at Baton Rouge, Louisiana, caught fire late Thursday night. The flames spread so rapidly as to threaten the entire destruction of the building. The roof of the Senate chamber fell in soon after the fire was discovered. Thousands of citizens of Baton Rouge joined the firemen in an effort to save as much as possible of the structure or its contents. The fire was checked after it had consumed almost the entire eastern half of the building above the first floor. The saving of the capitol was accomplished in a spectacular manner, with Governor Blanchard, assisted by many Louisiana legislators, dressed in their night clothes, and by hundreds of other citizens, supplementing the fire department.

A Western Wonder

Closing Exercises.

The closing exercises of the School for Girls were held last evening at the home of the principal, Mrs. Frances [illegible]g, on Prince street. The audience followed with interest each number of the well-arranged programme and showed their appreciation by hearty applause. A short, humorous play, acted with great spirit, brought to a close an agreeably spent evening. The awards were made by the Reverend Harry B Lee, of Baltimore. Prizes were awarded in the class in drawing to Misses Leslie Baggett and Daisy Howell. For good lessons in spelling to Miss Marion Kennedy and for general improvement to Misses Lillian Darley and Matilda Nowland; for excellence to Miss Leslie Baggett. For regular attendance and good behavior prizes were also awarded to Misses Leslie Baggett and Daisy Howell. In the intermediate department a prize was received by Miss Rose Peake for improvement in her studies, and in the academic department by Miss Fannie Peverill. The "sunshine prize" was awarded to Miss Daisy Howell. For improvement in all her studies a gold medal was awarded to Miss Mary Baker, and one in music was also presented to Miss Katherine Brickley.

Accused Dismissed.

Albert Krofft, agent for a Washington instalment house, was arraigned in the Police Court this morning charged with entering the house of a lady living on Peyton street, between Prince and Duke, and removing therefrom furniture which had recently been purchased from the house represented by Krofft. A payment was due yesterday morning, but when the agent called on the lady she was not prepared to meet her obligation. A colloquy ensued between the customer and the agent, which waxed warm, during which, it is alleged, the former told Krofft to take the furniture—meaning probably that he could recover it the best way possible, and not that he should forcibly enter the house. The agent, however, took her at her word and entering the house removed the articles in dispute. A crowd subsequently gathered which became menacing and Krofft retreated toward West End. He was later, on complaint of the lady, arrested by Officer Nicholson. Krofft was represented by Mr. C. C. Carlin, and after Justice Caton had heard all the evidence, he dismissed the accused.

Mystic Shrine.

The Imperial Council, Ancient, Arabic Order of Nobles of the Mystic Shrine for North America, will meet in annual session in Chicago. On Tuesday and Wednesday, the 12th and 13th inst. This session was to have been held in Los Angeles last May but was postponed by the Imperial Potentate on account of the earthquake, and Chicago was selected. Geo. L. Street and Preston Belvue of Richmond; Thos. J. Nottingham, of Norfolk, and E. E. Downham, of Alexandria, are the representatives from Acca Temple, Richmond. They will leave Washington at 11 a. m. tomorrow via the B. & O. R. R. They will be accompanied by representatives from Almas Temple, Washington, D. C., who will attend the session.

The Curtin Murder Case.

There are no new developements in the Curtin murder case. Steven Davis and several women from north Lee street are still held, it being believed by the authorities that they possess material facts in connection with the murder. As has been stated, Harry Meeks, who had been previously arrested in connection with the case, was dismissed, as was also George N. Proctor, who had been taken in custody the previous night. The arrest of the latter was the result of a mistake, as was subsequently proven, and his release followed promptly. Davis and the women referred to will be taken before the grand jury Monday.

The Market.

There was a full offering of country produce in market this morning which brought former prices. There was an abundance of reasonable vegetables. Many strawberries were displayed, which sold at from 6 to 15 cents per box. Cherries were also abundant.

Police Court.

[Justice H. B. Caton presiding.]

The following cases were disposed of this morning:

Tim Madden, arrested by Officer Garver with being a suspicious character and for vagrancy, was dismissed.

Thomas O'Brien, arrested by the same officer charged with similar offenses, was sent to jail for 20 days.

William Jackson, colored, charged with attempting to rob the money drawer at Dyson & Bros', store, was sent to jail for 90 days.

Albert Krofft, arrested by Officer Nicholsol charged with forcibly entering a house, was dismissed.

Rose Johnson, colored, arrested by Officer Beach and Garvey charged with disorderly conduct, was fined $5.

George and Mary Brooks, arrested by Officer Smith and Bettis charged with being drunk and disorderly, had their case continued.

Funerals.

The funeral of the late Howard Cary, son of Mr. Clarence Cary, of New York, formerly of this city, took place today. The interment was made in Ivy Hill Cemetery and the services were conducted by Rev. P. P. Phillips. The deceased, it will be remembered, was found dead in his room in London recently, he having been shot, it is supposed, accidentally. The young man left his home some time ago to spend several months in foreign countries where he proposed to acquire knowledge in the banking business. When the sad news of his death was received his father repaired to London and had the remains shipped to this country. They arrived this morning via the Washington and Alexandria ferry and the funeral cortege formed at the foot of King street from which point it proceeded to Ivy Hill.

The funeral of the late John T. Harrison, who died suddenly on Thursday morning, took place this afternoon from the residence on north Columbus street. Rev. Mr. Jeffers conducted the services.

Hail Storm.

A destructive hail storm passed up the Maryland shore, opposite this city, about six o'clock this morning, causing considerable damage to growing crops and breaking all the window glass on the west side of houses. The storm came from the southwest and extended northeast for some distance in a path about half a mile wide. The wind attained a fearful velocity. A large boat anchored near the shore was capsized in the twinkling of an eye and another lying near by was picked up by the wind and tossed on the shore. Some hail fell in this city while the storm was raging. There were also some thunder and lightning.

The mercury in the thermometer at noon today stood at 86°. The humidity, however, was intense, and it was generally believed that the weather was more sultry than that at any other time this summer. There was a light rain this afternoon, during which the temtemperature fell considerably.

Interesting Case.

The case of L A. Rauterberg vs. Mary A. Rauterberg, set for argument in the Corporation Court yesterday, was adjourned over till Thursday next. The defendant was represented by Messrs. J. R. and H. B. Caton and the plaintiff by Messrs. Machen & Moncure, Douglass & Douglass and C. H. Syme. In this case a decree for divorce was entered in January, 1905, on the ground of desertion on the part of the defendant, who has now come in by petition under the statute and seeks to get the divorce aside. In the meantime Rauterberg has married again and is now living with his second wife.

Corporation Court.

A regular grand jury term of the Corporation Court, Judge Barley, will commence on Monday next. The following compose the grand jury: Messrs. L. McK. Bell, John Leadbeater, E C. Graham, J. D. Normoyle, Henry Baader, John W. May, F. J. Pollard, H. K. Field, Geo. D Hopkins, F. S. Harper, H. F. Robertson and N. P. T. Burke. The case of John Dogan, colored, who has served a term in the penitentiary, charged with petit larceny (third offense) will be considered by the grand jury, and the men and women held as witnesses in the Curtin murder case will be brought before them.

Luna Park.

Luna Park was extensively patronized again yesterday and last night. The attractions were in full blast and they were greatly enjoyed by visitors. At night, when the thousands of electric bulbs were gleaming the resort was suggestive of fairyland. The ground upon which this modern park has been constructed was was for many years known as "Swallow Hill," in which was situated the "Wild Man's Cave," concerning which many stories were told. The locality is now bristling with life and one of the most inviting in the neighborhood of the national capital.

Election.

The general election for members of the Board of Aldermen and Common Council will be held in this city on Tuesday next, the 12th instant. One Aldermen and two Councilmen will be selected in each ward. Mr. Frank Evans, who is a candidate for the Common Council in the Fourth ward, is the only opponent of the regular democratic nominee. Messrs. L. E. Uhler and Albert Bryan are the democratic nominees in that ward and are at present chairman, respectively, of the light and finance committees of Council.

Alexandria Council, No. 38, will send as its representative to the flag presentation Mr. Jas. W. Wills. After the presentation the members of the order will be shown through the shipyard and all the working parts explained by experienced hands.

Crabs Helped In Rabbit Hunt.

On a property where the rabbit shooting was strictly preserved upon the southern coast of England a boy was caught with two dead rabbits in his possession and nothing that would account for their decease. A search of his pocket revealed nothing but two live crabs of small dimensions, the end of a candle and a box of matches. Under promise of release the urchin was persuaded to disclose his method of procedure. First he selected a likely burrow and then stripped off his clothes, putting his coat over one hole, his trousers over another and his shirt over the third. He lit the candle end, dropped a little grease upon the crab's back and stuck the lighted candle thereon and then put the crab at an unoccupied opening. Straightway the frightened torchbearer fled sideways into the darkness and explored the innermost depths, while the boy, expectant as a terrier, awaited events outside. Presently a rabbit bolted into the coat. As it did so that boy was after it like a shot, and boy, rabbit and coat all rolled over together, the boy rising from the fray with the rabbit in his clutches.—Korea News.

Priceless, Yet Costless—Pure Air.

There is no menace to vitality and to the sum and the value of the products of vital energy so continuously imminent, so insidious, so effectively active as are the invisible wastes of the body. The dead by the weapons of the world's battlefields are few compared with those whose lives have been either blighted or prematurely ended because of failure to maintain the body in a correct relation to the atmospheric source of abundant energy waiting to be transformed into vital force and who have died for want of proper breath. He who would live at his best must breathe air at its purest. There is no material necessity to life greater than that of pure air. There is nothing so priceless and yet so costless as air. There is no financial investment which does or can yield so sure and so large returns as money wisely expended for pure air.—Professor S. H. Woodbridge in Good Housekeeping.

Villages That Cut Corks.

Thousands of men, women and children in the mountains of Spain and Portugal are employed in cutting cork. It is a domestic trade, and it occupies whole villages. Agents from the factories and export houses of Seville and Lisbon go through the mountain villages each year buying up the corks in enormous quantities. It is not unusual for an agent to purchase 5,000,000 on one journey. The corks as purchased in the native villages are of all sizes and qualities. They are sorted in the cities and, after being packed, are shipped by the ton. Once here many of them are recut by hand at the rate of twenty gross a day. So fastidious are some bottlers that the cork importers have to keep in their employment several cork cutters to recut such corks as do not suit customers.

Arabs and Portraits.

An artist who found it difficult to get pictures of Arabs in Morocco writes: "I once tried to sketch some Arabs in Algiers. They constantly evaded me, and at last an old Moor, with whom we were on the friendly terms produced by constant bargaining for embroidered rags, spoke to me on the matter like a father, for my good. 'It is not,' he said, 'that any harm will ensue to those whose picture you make. It is you yourself will suffer inconvenience in the next world. Allah will say to you: "Following your own will and pleasure, you have made those figures. I now command you give them souls." And where, my friend, will you be then?'"

Woman Was Made From an Elm Stick

In the Scandinavian myth of the origin of woman Odin, Vili and Ve, the three sons of Bor, were walking along the sea beach when they found two sticks of wood, one of ash and one of elm. Odin and his brothers were gods, of course, but the sight of the stick caused them to wish that they could carve other gods from the inanimate wood. They forthwith set about the task, with the result that they made a living man out of the ash stick and a female, being in godlike form, equally as lively as the man, out of the elm billet.

You cannot induce a lower animal to eat heartily when not feeling well. A sick dog starves himself and gets well. The stomach, once overworked, must have rest the same as your feet or eyes. You don't have to starve to rest your stomach. KODOL FOR DYSPEPSIA takes up the work for your stomach, digests what you eat and gives it a rest. Puts it back in condition again. You can't feel good with disordered stomach. Try Kodol. Sold by W. F. Creighton & Co., 401 King street.

Long Tennessee Fight.

For twenty years W. L. Rawls, of Bells, Tenn., fought nasal catarrh. He writes: "The swelling and soreness inside my nose was fearful, till I began applying Bucklen's Arnica Salve to the sore surface; this caused the soreness and swelling to disappear, never to return." Best salve in existence. 25c at E. S. Leadbeater & Sons', Druggists.

TO THE OWNERS OF DOGS!

MAYOR'S OFFICE,
Alexandria, Va., June 8, 1906.

All persons owning or intending to keep any animal of the Dog or Canine species should come forward on or before and take out a license for the same from the Auditor. After the 30th of June all persons owning or harboring Dogs without the required license are subject to a fine as the laws on the subject require of $3 or $5.

Complaint has been frequently made that many persons fail to take out their license, and that others pay on one or two Dogs when owning and harboring more, or who send such Dogs away during the summer months and bring them back in the fall.

Attention has been called to this evasion of the law, and policemen will report all such cases, and fines can be imposed upon those who fail to take out licenses after trial in the Police Court.

The police officers will be required to report all violations of this law.

In order to avoid any mistakes persons who make application for licenses would do well to write their names and number of residence, street, etc., on a card or paper when making application for their licenses to the Auditor.

FRED. J. PAFF, Mayor.

The following is a copy of Section 54 of the license law. "On every dog, regardless of sex, one dollar and fifty cents."
